Said In Cypress

That "Mr. Bastanchury" (his own name is twice as long and harder to spell) who delivers bottled water in this territory, was the proud possessor Saturday afternoon of a beautiful panda bear doll, almost life-size. For a small "investment" of 25c (expended in 5c lots) he won the toy, valued at about $15.

That it's good to see Otho Switzer downtown and around once more. We know a little secret concerning his recovery. His doctor prescribed an unusual remedy to overcome his nervousness at having to sit around, waiting to get well. He's doing needlepoint these days! We'd like to see some organization in Cypress sponsor a "hobby" night for the men. We know of some other unusual occupations and we just bet that such an event would be a good drawing card.

That "Junior" has been bedded down for awhile. Even though we own one of the smallest dogs in the world, and what we believed to be the tiniest — we can't find a pocketbook large enough to keep up with their demands!

That a recent news release brings us the information that Wesley Dickinson, well-known in Cypress as a student of snakes, is in Chicago where he is seeking the aid of specialists to save his arm. A rattlesnake bit the personable Dickinson on October fourth, and west coast medicos have said the poisoned offender must come off.

That the rest of you have probably forgotten all about the softball team's dinner which occurred on Monday evening, October 24. But not us. We have had a special reminder all these many days since the eventful occasion. As soon as we finish this paragraph, we are going to at last throw away the blooms which we "lifted" from the floral decorations on the table that evening. Donated by George Ogata, the colorful array is even yet in fairly good condition — without any special effort to preserve them on our part. We will never quite stop marveling at California's flowers.

DYER FAMILY CHANGES PLANS—MOVE TO TEX.

Although their new home in Sunny Hills is nearly ready for occupancy, the Hector Dyer family will not have the pleasure of moving in.

Much as they regret leaving California and "Mother" Dyer, it is with a feeling of joy that it was learned that Dyer has been given a permanent station with the Union Oil company at Midland Texas.

The family can all be together again.

As soon as a place can be found in Midland, Mrs. Dyer and the children will move. They plan to sell their home in Fullerton.

Helen Broadbelt Contest Winner

When the helicopter bearing Queen Virginia Mayo, movie star, zooms onto the field at the Coliseum December 17, for the navy football game, Cypress will be represented in the department of pulchritude by Mrs. James Broadbelt, who will be a member of the Queen's court of honor.

As as result of a beauty contest held in various chapters of the American Legion Women's posts in Los Angeles, Helen won the district contest, which entitled her to vie with other contestants for the title of Lady in Waiting. At the close of competition last Saturday evening, this coveted honor went to Ann Brown of Santa Monica. The five other beauties were consoled by being named to Queen Virginia's court.

To escort "Her Highness" from the playing field, the group will occupy a special box at the game. As an added honor, the winners have been busy the past week being photographed by the press and with Miss Mayo for her studio.

Experts Will Bowl Sunday In Buena Park

Local bowling enthusiasts will be able to see how the game should be played in the Buena Park Bowl Sunday night when the "875 Traveling League" members compete on the local alleys. Action will start at 7 p.m.

In order to qualify for participation in the 875 league, teams must average 875 pins for five men in three lines. This boils down to about a 175 per man average, which is top bowling in just about any circuit.

Sponsored by the Bowl, the Buena Park team has been active in the league all fall. Each week the matches are held on different alleys throughout this territory.

Open Letter to the Telephone Co.

Following publication of last week's issue containing a news story regarding a toll-free plan for extended phone service in Orange county, this newspaper began to receive protests from its readers regarding certain figures released which stated the cost of telephone service.

The offending paragraph, from material dictated orally by a representative of the phone company to our publisher, is reproduced here.

> "Heaviest burden of the increased expense would be borne by business phones . . . One-party business rate at present is $5.75 and would jump to $11.50 under the plan. Two-party business would increase from the present $4.75 charge to $8.50."

Cypress has no one-party business phones, as far as could be ascertained. There would seem to be a discrepancy between the $4.75 rate which would be increased to $8.50, and the amount which now appears on the monthly telephone bill of local two-party line users.

The questions being asked are: "Why are the existing basic charges so much in excess of the quoted prices by the telephone company?

"Why the discrepancy between the basic rates charged to phones so close together?

"Is it due to mileage charges, and, if so, how are they figured?"

Most of the residence and business phones in this area are ten-party lines, for which no present basic or increased rates were noted.

This newspaper solicits an answer from the telephone company through these columns, which will undoubtedly clarify the situation for its readers.

Jensen Hits Top and Bottom Scores In Tuesday Night League Bowling

Bob Jensen, rolling for the Cypress Merchant team No. 2 in the Tuesday Handicap league at Buena Park, set some kind of record for high and low games in his three game series Tuesday.

In his first try, Jensen rolled a meager 89. He improved the second game by hitting 142, and raised his third attempt to a 168.

Pat Patterson hit 212 for the No. 2 team's high games. Alex (Whitey) Wilson claimed high series with a 575.

The league-leading No. 2 team lost to Anaheim Truck and transfer, 3 to 1.

Merchants No. 1 Win

Led by Foster Noe, who rolled a high game of 192 and high series of 531, the Cypress Merchants No. 1 won four straingt from the cellar-dwelling U-Tel-Em Market.

One of the highlights of that match was Jimmy Moss outdoing his average by rolling a 178.

Triangle Loses Two

Triangle Drive-in, rolling against the Monarch Cleaners from Buena Park, found the going a little rough as they dropped two games and won one. Dorothy O'Neal Claire Hitt sparked the Triangle women, with Dorothy having high series and game, 439 and 158, while Claire rolled a 144.

Triangle lost the last game by only 10 pins after spotting their opponents 39.

Listed below are the bowling league standings of teams at the Buena Park Bowl. The results include the games played Tuesday evening.

Sunday Wedding Guests Arrive At Irvin Home

The wedding of Miss Camille Sandvig and William D. Irvin will occur Sunday afternoon in Saint Boniface church, Anaheim. Mrs. Carrie Sandvig, mother of tht bride-to-bt, arrivtd this week from Seattle, Washington, and the best man, Olin Bearden, from Snyder, Texas. They are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Irvin, 8411 Gay street.

Marking the day with unusual significance will be the celebration of two other important anniversaries the same day. Mr. and Mrs. Irvin, parents of the groom, will observe their 26th wedding anniversary, and it will also be the former's birthday.

WM. BOECKELERS VISIT MANY POINTS OF INTEREST ON TRIP

One of the first trips taken beyond California was enjoyed by William Boeckeler and his family when they visited in Joliet, Illinois, recently.

Following highway 66, the return journey was made on highways 40 and 50, with many stopovers at points of interest on the 5,000-mile drive, over a three-week period.

Not content with riding, the couple enjoyed a mile-hike into Zion park, accompanied by their two toddlers, Kathy and Davy.

"Lanky," who was born in Imperial valley, confessed his ignorance at the size of the country before making the trip. While in Joliet, they visited his sister, Agnes, who is married and lives there with her husband and family. She was formerly a Cypress resident. Calls were made on other relatives on both sides of the family. Some of Mrs. Boeckeler's relatives had not been seen since she was very young.

Foothill Riders Go Cross-Country To Los Alamitos

Twenty tired but happy Foothill riders returned from an all-day journey Sunday, October 30, which took them on a 20-mile ride on horseback.

After gathering at the club grounds at W. Walnut street at 9:30 a.m., they proceeded down Western avenue past Ball road to the S.P. tracks, where they turned west. The trail led them past Vessel's Quarter Horse Ranch, and into Los Alamitos; then west into the river bed of the San Gabriel river, where they rode for about three miles, and reached their destination near Lakewood at noon.

When they arrived, other members were there to serve lunch and cokes to the thirsty riders. After a short rest period, they proceeded home via another route and arrived at the club grounds at 4 p.m.

With beautiful weather all the way, and no mishaps for horse or rider, a successful day was reported. It will be repeated in the near future.

Whoops – Yep! That's Rain!

According to records being kept by the official counter of raindrops, "Dick" Wallace, California dew measured .60 inches at 8:00 a.m. Thursday morning.

Two "traces" of rain had been noted prior to precipitation November ninth. These did not amount to enough to be measured.

Mrs. Marie Giles Visits Auxiliary For Inspection

With a special word of praise for the manner in which the local unit of the ladies' auxiliary to the Cypress Post no. 9847 of the VFW is conducted, Mrs. Leafy Marie Giles finished her annual inspection at a special ceremony Monday evening.

The second district president also honored Mrs. Frances Demiris as she presented her with a ten-year pin, significant of her length of membership in the organization.

Two new members were received into the local unit, Mrs. Emily Fernandez and Mrs. Ellen Anderson.

Several visitors from neighboring auxiliaries were present, and during the refreshment hour a few members of the local post joined the group. Mrs Virginia Daniels and Mrs. Lucile Christopher were in charge of the latter feature of the evening's program.

The next regular meeting will be held on December fifth.

MEETS RELATIVES IN RIVERSIDE FOR FEW HOURS' VISIT

Mrs. Madge Lyen and son, Lynn, motored to Riverside on Thursday, November 3. At the Mission Inn, they were fortunate in spending a little time with Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Lovett, of Dixon, Illinois.

Attending a bankers' convention in San Francisco, the couple was on a conducted tour of California, and had only a short stay in the southland. The schedule was such that Mrs. Lyen was able to visit with her cousin, Mrs. Lovett, whom she hadn't seen since 1931.

Tiny Tot Given Big Cake, Party

On the occasion of her third birthday, the rumpus room of the Otho Switzer home on Moody street was used to honor small Anita Greenwadye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Greenwayde.

The small fry played children's games at the evening party, after which a big birthday cake with jello were by the pus guests.

Attending the affair were Connie De Witt, Donna Jean and Norman DeWitt, Sherry Booher, Ray and Everetta De Witt, Charlene Lenerville, Joyce, Bob and "Sister" Huckabee, and the two Cochelle children, Larry and "Sister" and Billy Kelley, Linda Logue, and Carol De Witt.

PAINFUL SPIDER BITE MAKES RESIDENT ILL

Mrs. Helen Crabtree,9521 Holder road is recovering from a siege of illness characterized by a feeling of nasuea and fatigue. When the sickness continued to bother, Mrs. Crabtree re-contructed the events leading up to the trouble, and it was discovered that it was probably caused from a black widow spider bite.

A spot on her finger became swollen and enflamed after a few days' time.

Two years ago her son, Ross Crabtree, almost lost a leg following in similar experience.

Los Alamitos Chamber Refuses Offer To Purchase MWD Water

"No" is the decision of the Los Alamitos chamber of commerce in regard to joining with other cities and communities of Orange county, whose aim is annexation to the Metropolitan Water District.

In explaining the action, Mrs. A. J. Labourdette, secretary, said Los Alamitos chamber officials and members are quite thoroughly agreed that the community would be paying too much for its water under the proposed set-up.

Investigation has shown that the community would have to float a bond, which, carried, would cost the taxpayer 60c per $100 valuation, said Mrs. Labourdette. Southern California Water Co. customers would necessarily have to pay an extra fee for the company to deliver the Metropilitan water, she stated.

WELCOME! New Readers

Public Accountant Moves Office To Cypress from L. A.

Occupying the M. E. Penhall home at 5302 Lincoln avenue are Mr. and Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, who have moved here from Los Angeles. The former carried on his business as a public accountant there for the past twenty years. With his assistant, Joseph B. Widmann, they will continue the practice of their profession in Cypress and the surrounding area, where McLaughlin is already well known to many members of the community.

Until a central location becomes available, the business will be conducted in the office adjacent to the home at 5302 Lincoln avenue. The two associates are especially interested in the accounting problems of the dairymen and the application of the current tax laws to these problems.

It is expected that the circle of McLaughlin's friends and acquaintances in this community will widen rapidly and that his assistance to them in matters pertaining to his profession will be extremely beneficial.

HONOR NAT'L PRES. OF VFW AUXILIARIES

Beginning with a delicious turkey dinner the Imperial cafe, 8641 Garden Grove boulevard, Mrs. Betty Knauss and Mrs. Jean Kresissler were in attendance at a meeting on Tuesday, November eighth, honoring the national president of the ladies' auxiliary to the VFW.

Mrs. Donat F. (Evelyn) Monaco was presented to second district members at the dinner and in the meeting at the I.O.O.F. hall in Anaheim which followed. The local members were joined by Mmes Bea Hahn and Frances Demiris.

It was esimated that approximately 200 attended the meal, with around 400 in attendance at the closed meeting, which was followed by social hour during which refreshments were served.

Plans Projects Los Alamitos C of C Board

Badly needed civic improvements for Los Alamitos were discussed recently when the board of directors of the chamber of commerce met at the home of A. J. Labourdtttt, 3242 East Cerritos avenue.

Maps have been received from Orange and Los Angeles counties showing projected plans for the Willow, Katella extensions. If Katella is extended through to Long Beach, it will provide a thoroughfare from Anaheim to Long Beach. Los Alamitos is practically in the center of the proposed roadway and tht board believts more business for tht town will result if the road is completed.

AUXILIARY TO V.F.W. PLANS CARD SOCIAL ON NOVEMBER 21

Members of the Auxiliary to Cypress VFW Post no. 9847 are planning for a social evening on Monday, November 21, to which the public is invited.

Bridge and pinochle will be played principally, with prizes to be given.

A small donation of 25 cents per person has been decided upon. Refreshments will be in the charge of co-hostesses Jean Kreissler and Betty Knauss. The social will be held in the VFW meeting hall at 5955 Lincoln avenue.

MOBILE BLOOD UNIT IN ANAHEIM NOV. 22

Because Cypress residents are in the Anaheim area served by the American Red Cross, and are eligible to receive donations of blood when needed, they are reminded that they may also donate to this worthy cause.

The mobile blood unit will be at Ebell clubhouse in Anaheim from 4 to 7 o'clock in the evening on Tuesday, November 22. Although it is preferred that appointments be made in advance, it is not absolutely necessary.

Anyone wishing further information may call Anaheim 2065.

Neighbor Is Surprised On Birthday

A truly surprised guest of honor was feted at a party in honor of her birthday last Saturday evening, when Mrs. Jack Junker entertained at her home on Grace street for Mrs. Vic Konig.

The evening was spent playing bingo. After the guest of honor had unwrapped her many lovely gifts, the hostess served the traditional birthday cake and other refreshments. She was assisted by Mrs. A. E. Holborow and Mrs. Howard Decker.

Others participating in the surprise were Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Corby; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Essex; Mr. and Mrs. Arden Hambly; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Essex; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kelley and cousin, Robert Mosson; and A. E. Holborow, Vic Konig and Jack Junker.

FARM TRAINING PROGRAM CLASSES BEING ARRANGED

All veterans interested in enrolling in an Institutional on the Farm Training Program are asked to call Mel Eberhard, Anaheim 3370.

Veterans should have their own farm or do agricultural work to get in the class. Those enrolled will receive subsistence similar to that of veterans going to school, according to Mel Eberhard, who is organizing the class.

VFW Sets Up A Disaster Program For Cypress

Cypress Voters Favor School Bond Measure

Cypress voters approved the school bond measure at the polls Tuesday. The greatest majority of yes votes in the county were cast in favor of this measure. A total of 34,897 for, and 18,848 against were recorded.

Proposition 12, daylight saving carried in the county by 1320 votes, or 27,845 yes and 26,525 no votes. Cypress voters defeated this measure, as they did Proposition No. 2, aged and blind aid, which carried in the county.

Proposition No. 11, which was considered a faulty measure, was the only proposition defeated in the county-wide voting with 11,670 yes and 31,111 no votes cast.

All other measures carried.

Free Lecture On Christian Science

Free lecture on the healing power of Christian Science will be given in the Excelsior Union high school auditorium at three p.m. Sunday, November 13, by Elisabeth F. Norwood, C.S.B. of Brookline, Massachusetts. She is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Norwood will appear under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Artesia-Norwalk. The title of her lecture is "CHRISTIAN SCIENCE: the Religion of Love, which heals."

All who are interested in learning about Christian Science will be welcome to listen to Mrs. Norwood's lecture. No collection will be taken. The high school auditorium holds 2000 and it is anticipated that everyone wishing to attend can be seated.

Persons needing special consideration will be provided with cards entitling them to sit in a special section close to the front of the auditorum. These cards may be had by applying to the Reading Room at the rear of the church, 18116 South Walnut Street, Artesia, between the hours of 2:30 and 5 p.m. on Friday afternoons, November 11.

Instigated by the county board of supervisors, the VFW post No. 9847 in Cypress has set up an organized major disaster program here. Contacted by Supervisor Ralph McFadden of this district, Post Commander "Happy" Kresissler apponted Jesse E. Smith to act as a committee of one in outlining the details of the plan.

To be used in case of any major disaster, such as an earthquake, tidal wave, an especially large fire or other catastrophe, equipment, men and signal to be used on the fire siren have all been arranged for.

At the sound of two long blasts of the siren, followed by one short blast, those responsible for certain gear will assemble at the fire station, as well as all available men.

Smith states that he has received a very satisfactory response to his request for equipment to carry out the program.

The firms and individuals listed below have agreed to stand by with the following: Cypress hardware, one sledge hammer, one box assorted nails, one 50-gal drum, assorted ropes and wire, two axes; Cypress lumber company, four fire extinguishers, one truck if necessary, one fork-lift if necessary, bracing material, two saws, two hammers, two shovels, several lengths of hose; A. E. Arnold, one truck; J. E. Smith, one tool box of assorted tools two blankets, one shovel, one saw, one hammer; Carl Markel, one jack, two cots, if needed; H. J. G. Kreissler, one jack.

"Let us hope," Smith said, "That this emergency set up will never have to be used in Cypress. In case a major disaster does occur, however, we will be better prepared."

Opens New Business In Los Alamitos

Having recently acquired the property at 3342 Cerritos avenue in Los Alamitos, Bob Robinson has moved his stock of pipe, clothes line poles, and many other items from Long Beach to the new location.

A well-built office building is attractively furnished and decorated. To call Robinson from any place on the property, the bookkeeper has only to resort to a unique method — that of sounding a blast on an automobile horn from a model of questionable vintage.

Foreman for the business is Ed Comozzi, of Cypress. Robinson is hopeful of hiring from 10 to 20 men, as the business warrants it, he stated.

Although the family still resides in Long Beach, they plan to move to Los Alamitos in the future.

ARREST YOUTH IN LOCAL STORE HOLD-UP

Joe Diaz Castillo, 23, 11112 Artesia avenue, Aartesia, was arrested Monday night by sheriff's deputies. He is charged with armed robbery of the Cypress beverage store at 9:58 p.m. on October 22.

Castillo is alleged to have come in and asked for four cans of beer. He put down a bill to pay for it, and when Elmer Klamroth opened the cash register, Castillo drew a revolver and said, "Keep a-coming with all of it—the big ones."

Cash in the amount of $151 was taken.

AIR COLLISIONS

When the airplane was first coming into wide use the possibility of air collisions was perhaps looked upon as being extremely remote. With the whole sky to move around in the situation was entirely different from that of surface traffic. But the recent series of midair crashes has put a different light on the subject. It indicates that unless further safety steps are taken we may be faced with hazardous conditions in the air lanes comparable to those existing on our highways. One trouble, it has been pointed out, is the nearness of airfields to one another. Near Washington, where the most tragic crash occurred last week, there are several important fields within a short radius. It would hardly be feasible now after millions have been spent on these fields, or others similarly located, to attempt moving them to some different locations. Furthermore, change in location would not necessarily solve the whole problem. What the answer is remains for expects to decide. But some sort of a survey should be made without delay to find that answer.

ARMISTICE DAY

Well done they said, the battle for freedom is won. Thus a grateful nation marked that first Armistice Day November 11, 1918.

But the battle for freedom wasn't won, nor will it ever be won unless a vigilant America has learned the lesson of the past and stands firm against future encroachment. For World War II was also fought for freedom and other wars can surely follow.

Only an alert nation which treasures its freedom, which fights for its freedom daily, can ever celebrate an Armistice Day commemorating the end of war. For the danger is not so great that freedom will be snatched from America by foreign aggressors, as it is that the people will lose their freedom without ever knowing it — to the very government on which they depend for protection from outside invasion.

America could well remember that freedom is not a heritage to be maintained without cost. It is a way of life which every conscientious citizen must constantly uphold and champion. — California Feature Service.

Armistice Day

The first Armistice Day was November 11, 1918. It was celebrated at the close of World War I. News came from Europe that the war was over on the ninth and they celebrated then. But the war wasn't really over until two days later, which was November 11.

There were parades and speeches, etc. Many people were disappointed in having to celebrate twice on one purpose, but still they celebrated. The next Armistice will be on November 11, 1949.

April Love

My love is like an April child,
Born in a lightning flash,
From chilly winds and wild
Sharp thunder's clash.

My love is like the rhythmic rain
Of an April day in Spring,
Rain and shine and storm again,
With bird song on the wing.

My love is like an April child,
Smiles and tears and laughter;
Sun and showers and shining mild,
With rainbows spilling after!

TIME TO RING DOWN THE CURTAIN!

I RISE TO REMARK
by John Phillips

These should be considered "first impressions," and yet, to be that properly, they should have been written before. Suppose we call them half-way impressions, somewheres between the first impressions and more careful analysis which follows eventually with any investigator or traveler. They are impressions of Europe in 1949, and some comments on the American influences there.

The people in the various nations are not the same in their thinking, their likes and dislikes, nor their racial, religious, economic backgrounds. It has always been curious to observe how the characteristics change, when one crosses a border. Even the architecture seems to change, and yet the distances are less than between states here, sometimes between counties.

Large District

There are 12,107 square miles in the 22nd District, and the present population is reported to be 367,740. Ther are 11,775 square miles in Belgium, with a population over 8 millions, and there are 15,764 square miles in the Netherlands, with a population of 9 1/2 millions. Little Luxembourg has 999 square miles and a population of 289,000, smaller than this District. The British Isles have an area of only 94,000 square miles but a population of 50 millions. These are factors to consider when we talk about unions, and future programs, or when, with the youthful enthusiasm of this nation, we try to make over the older nations in our own image. We send corn to the Italians who eat wheat, and wheat to the Italians who eat corn. We send tractors to people who want donkeys and mules and we propose farm plans, suitable in California, to people who still farm little tracts of land under a most intensive kind of cultivation.

The Italians have gone to work. The results are showing. The French haven't quite gotten around to it yet. They are still talking politics and waiting for us to send them the things they could produce or make for themselves. The British are in somewhat serious mess at the moment, and will probably continue so as long as the American taxpayer is willing to pay for ideas and extravagances over which we feel we can't afford for ourselves. The British will struggle through eventually, and in the age-old contest between tradition and more modern approaches to the problems, tradition will win. Thus it will take longer, and be somewhat more painful, but successful in the end.

Better Shape

It was the opinion, expressed to me, by some of the members of the Congress, abroad this summer, that some of the other nations were working harder, were better off, and particularly were in better financial shape than the United States. That is an exaggeration, when you consider our great resources (not so great as they once were) and our productive capacity, particularly in food. We must also consider that we have blithely gone back to difcit financing, in a time of peace and relative prosperity.

Food conditions generally are much better than the do-gooders would have us believe. There is an abundance of simple foods; especially in France and Italy, and even in England the problems are variety in the diet, and the severe rationing. I have among my notes the food, soap, and other allowances, and you will see what an "austerity program" means to a people. It can become very tiresome. We have never experienced anything like it.

$195,000 Savings Possible Under Extended Service

Highlights of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company report made to the California Public Utilities Commission on October 31 covering a possible plan for providing extended telephone service in Orange county were outlined yesterday by Manager Gordon N. Gary.

He said that under the possible plan the company has estimated that annual savings to Pacific Company Orange county subscribers would be about $195,000. He emphasized that this figure is an estimated net amount derived by deducting an increase in exchange charges of $449,000 from a decrease in toll payments now being made by subscribers of $644,000.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor,
Cypress Enterprise,

Please renew my subscription for 1 year. I am enclosing $2.00 money order. I have enjoyed the paper very much this past year. One of the articles I like especially is Travelogue by James C. Duncan.

Your subscriber,
RICHARD HELBIG
Broad Brook, Conn.

(Ed's. Note: The above is a cousin of Mrs. Jack De Polter's. We appreciate such letters from our subscribers.)

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

As of November 1, 1949, all Western Union telegrams will be received and dispatched by Mrs. Clarence Fender, 5302 Bishop St., in Cypress.

I wish to express my appreciation to all residents of Cypress for their cooperation during my agency for the Western Union company. I am sure you will receive prompt and courteous service from your new agent. Mrs. Fender will be ably assisted by sons, David and Teddy, and daughter, Marian.

Travelogue

by James C. Duncan

On the second day out of Naples. we arrived in Marseilles, France. we arrived at 4:30 a.m. and the blackboard was posted that we would sail at 10:00 p.m. the same day.

We didn't have much time to see the sights, but Leny and I hurried through our work and decided to see as much as possible . Marseilles is built on a sloping cliff. The surrounding terrain is rugged, mountainous, rocky and almost barren of any trees or shrubs.

We took a trolly into the city from the docks. The trolley was very crowded as are all trolleys in these cities. Arriving uptown, we started walking down the street.

Tall building lined sides of the street. The ground floors of most of the buildings housed small shops while apartments and hotels occupied the upper stories.

In the center of the city we entered a large square which served as a taxi stand, trolley stop and public gathering place. It was here that we saw the La Dame de Garde Cathedral or the Fisherman's Cathedral. It stands high on the peak of a mountain and over looks the entire city and the harbor. The reason it is called the Fishermen's Cathedral is that it serves as a land mark for the fishermen out fishing.

Along the streets are many sidewalks cafes. We stopped at one and sat down at a small circular table under a brightly colored awning. A waitress took our order and presently reappeared carrying two ice cold drinks which were very enjoyable as it was beginning to get warm.

One thing that we noticed was how dirty the buildings were. They are a dirty brown and from the many windows over looking the main streets one can see sheets, towels, tablecloths, cloths and unmentionables flapping gaily in the breeze.

The people are happy and talk incessantly. Before I had visited France, I couldn't stand to hear a Frenchman talk. To me it sounded like a lot of grunting and talking through one's nose, but listening to the French people speak it and hearing it continually, it really is a beautiful language.

Continuing on we came to another large square that had a carnival set up in it. We decided to take it in. Besides the usual rides and games, there was a large tent set up with many people lined up waiting to get inside. We thought this must be something interesting to see so we got in line also although we didn't have the sligtest idea of what we were about to see as we couldn't read the signs posted about.

We managed to get inside after a short wait and inside was a large black automobile. It was polished to high shine and was covered with chrome. It was the largest car I have ever seen. Still not knowing what it was or who it belonged to, we looked it over.

The back seat was entirely closed off from the rest of the car by thick heavy panes of glass. In fact, all of the windows were extra thick and bullet proof. The body was constructed of thick heavy steel and it had dual rear wheels. The upholstery was most beautiful and very expensive looking. Curtains enclosed the back seat, but one was pulled back so you could look inside. Everyone was lined up to see inside. Finally we got a chance to peek in and there sitting down in full uniform was the wax figure of Hitler. It looked almost alive. Many of the people cursed as they peered inside and saw the figure.

Marseilles was the last port of call and at 10:00 p.m. that evening we sailed for New York via the Rock of Gibralter and the Atlantic.

bering 1,242 at the time the study was made, would be able to reach 66,903 more telephones in the added area.

The overall study made by Pacific Telephone, the manager said, presumes full dial operation with subscriber dialing over extended service routes.

Cypress would increase from its present number of 6,762 phones to 153,995 through addition of Long Beach, and would be the only Orange county exchange having toll-free service to Long Beach.

MENU

(Ed's. note: We are sorry that we were unable to procure a menu this week.)

Dr. Geddes will be unable to keep the Cypress school appointment on November 14. The date has been changed to Tuesday, November 29, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Those students scheduled for the 14th will be seen on the 29.

YOUTHFUL PUBLISHERS PRODUCE SECOND PAPER THIS SCHOOL TERM

Mrs. Arnold's 6-A

The second issue of the Cypress Globe was out Friday, October 28. It was a six-page paper. All the classes contributed items to help make a bigger, better paper.

The paper is sold for one cent per copy or 10 cents for a year's subscription. So far $6.76 has been collected. The staff plans to use the money to pay for the last issue which will be a printed paper.

Class Project Includes Visit To Daily Paper

by Rosalie Miller, 6-A

Mrs. Arnold's sixth grade is planning to take a trip to the Press-Telegram.

Bob Miles' letter was chosen to send to a Mr. John Larsen of the Press-Telegram who was a guide last year for the fifth and sixth grades. The class asked for permission to see the Press-Telegram to learn more about its operation.

The students are printing their own paper with a mimeograph machine and are interested in the bigger newspaper and want to learn more about it.

A special notice has been sent home by the school children stating that riders on school bus No. 1, south side, will be picked up later on Monday November 14. The bus, driven by driver Miles will be about 30 minutes late. This is for Monday ONLY.

Plan Reception And "Open House" P-T.A. Meeting

by Billy Kelliker

Students of Cypress school are planning "Open House" following the next regular P-T.A. meeting Thursday, November 17.

Rooms are being arranged by student committees to show parents some of the class activities. All parents are invited to come and inspect the rooms and talk with the teacher. Teachers will be introduced at the meeting.

Inaugurate New Teacher - Parent School Program

by Charlene Clifford

Monday, November seventh, at 7:30 o'clock a parent conference was held in Paul Winsor's eighth grade room.

About twenty-five parents attended. An unusually large number of fathers were present.

The meeting was held to get parents acquainted with the teacher and to tell some of the eighth grade classroom activities. This meeting, held during "National Education" week, is the first of the many conferences to be held in all the rooms in the near future.

Mrs. Arnold's Sixth Grade Wins P-T.A. Drive

by Joe Cram, 6-A

The P-T.A. membership drive ended Friday, November fourth, with 225 members. The P-T.A. will furnish parties for the three winning classes.

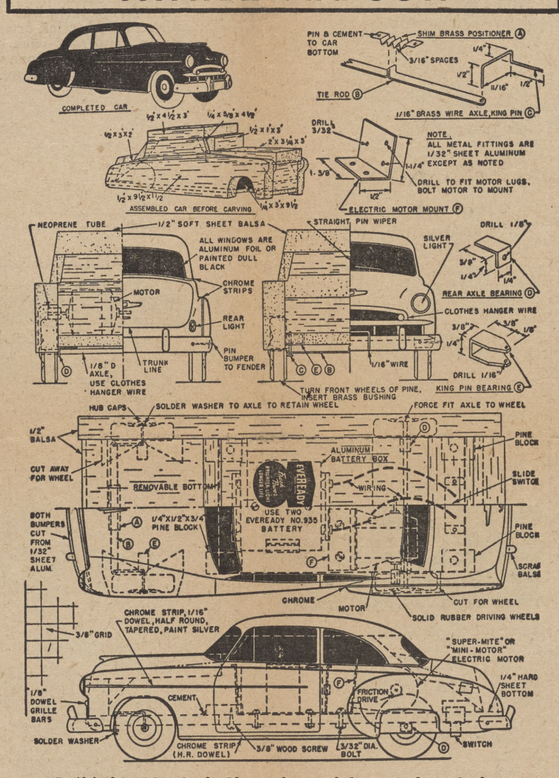
In the primary group Mrs. Mitchell won with 90 per cent. Miss Harding won in the second group with 85 per cent. Mrs. Arnold's sixth grade was highest in the 6, 7, 8 grades with 118 per cent. This was the highest in the school.

Here are the percentages of the rooms: morning kindergarten, Higgins, 53 per cent; afternoon kindergarten, Kirk, 54 per cent; first, Glover, 81 per cent; Mitchell, 90 per cent; Lambert, 48 per cent; second, Zebrowski, 31 per cent; Bartron, 32 per cent; Armour, 64 per cent; third, Turpin, 42 per cent; Jones, 56 per cent; fourth, Harding, 85 per cent; Thompson, 75 per cent; fifth, Dean, 63 per cent;; Rowe, 48 per cent; sixth, Arnold, 118 per cent; Lissner, 86 per cent; seventh, Keefe, 65 per cent; Visel, 62 per cent and eighth, Winsor, 58 per cent.

The parties will be in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Boyd, formerly owners of the drive-in nursery east of town, were visitors in the Cypress area for a few days last week. They have returned to their camp on the Colorado river near Earp.

FATHER and SON



Build this 10½-inch Chevrolet Styleline—2-door Sedan.

Dear Dad:

You may own a '49 Chevrolet but here's a chance for junior to have an exact-scale electric motor driven replica. This 10½-inch model looks just like the real car and is just as peppy, being powered with two 10c Eveready flashlight cells which drive a miniature electric motor. It will speed along any smooth surface and the front wheels can be adjusted for turning in either direction.

Build it in a weekend and both junior and you will have the time of your lives watching it perform. If you haven't been lured to your local hobby shop for the material then this will be the first step toward completing this project. And if the building materials and batteries are not available, drop a penny postcard to me at 67 West 44th Street, New York 18, N. Y. and I'll refer you to the nearest source of supply.

You can build this model from these plans and you can obtain additional information from the October issue of MECHANIX ILLUSTRATED magazine.

The body is built up from ¼ and ½ inch sheet balsa. Cut blocks to the size indicated on the drawing and then enlarge the side and top views to full size, using a grid with ⅜-inch squares to make the outlines. Trace the various outlines on each piece of balsa, cement them together and proceed to carve the exterior. If you ever run into difficulty when carving you can always visit your local Chevrolet showroom and look at the real car. The 1½-inch diameter wheels can either be turned from wood or else purchased from your hobby shop. Note that only one rear wheel is driven by the motor. The two 10c Eveready No. 935 flashlight cells are mounted in a battery box that is part of the entire removable motor section. Thus, for trouble shooting, you merely remove the screws on the bottom and the entire motor assembly pops out.

After the outside is shaped and the motor hooked up, you'll be able to paint junior's car first using a coat of wood filler followed by four to six coats of colored model airplane dope. Then this Chevrolet will be ready for the road!

Good luck,

Larry Eisinger

CYPRESS LOCALS

A visitor in the Elmer McWilliams's home on Sunday was his cousin, P. Richerson, from Oakland. Richerson formerly lived in Anaheim.

Appearance of the Jumbo Motel units on Lincoln avenue is being greatly improved with a new coat of paint in a shade of soft yellow. The Cleeks have been busy making minor repairs and improvements before the start of the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kelley will begin a three - week vacation starting November 15.

D. L. Von Trotha has been suffering from a painful quirk settling in the back of the neck. He has been able to continue working every day at North American, but his social activities have been somewhat curtailed.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cawthon returned home from Alamagordo, New Mexico, accompanied by their daughter, Chesley Lynn. Master Sergeant Ross, who has been transferred to the Air Force base at Las Vegas, arrived on Saturday with Billy's Indian pony.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ross, of Hood River, Oregon, arrived in Cypress Thursday afternoon for a winter's sojourn in Cypress with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Rogers and two children, Janet and Jean. The Rogers live at 5542 Danny avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Larsen and son, Don, of Long Beach, visited last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Peterson, at 4612 Lincoln avenue. The two women are sisters.

Mrs. Ethel Le Williams shared birthday dinner honors last Sunday with Lynn Lyen when his mother, Mrs. Madge Lyen, served a fried chicken dinner complete with birthday cake in their behalf. Lynn's birthday occurred on the fourth and Mrs. Le Williams' natal day was the tenth. The families were friends when they both lived in Chicago, but the latter now lives in Long Beach.

Miss Margaret Castro arrived from Bakersfield on Sunday for another extended visit with her brother, Andy. The latter is having a siege in the dentist's chair.

Members of the Cypress chamber of commerce, whose names appear on committees recently appointed by the associated chambers are James Broadbelt, highway and transportation; A. E. Arnold, sanitation and Beth Kroesen, membership.

Sgt. and Mrs. Ray E. Lucas, who have been living at the El Toro marine, expect to move back to their property in Cypress Manor in the near future. They were visitors at the VFW auxiliary meeting on Monday evening.

Members of the Orange county unit of California newspaper publishers will be given the opportunity Monday evening to hear Congressman John Phillips of this district describe his recent tour of Europe. Meeting at Knott's Berry place, the group will also be served dinner in the steak house following the informal talk.

The communicable disease report for the two weeks ending November 5 indicates that there were 30 cases of mumps, 10 of chickenpox, 16 whooping cough, 16 strep throat infections and six poliomyelitis, among others, in Orange county.

A quarterly meeting of the second district auxiliaries to VFW posts, will be held on November 20 at Arlington in the clubhouse at Anza village, beginning at 11 a.m. These meetings are reported to be interesting and instructive, and any member who wishes may attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Woodruff of Huntington Beach are flying east to pick up a new Oldsmobile. She is the daughter of Mrs. Chris Rogers of Winfield's trailer park. Helen Jo's grandmother, Mrs. Glover of Fullerton, is taking care of their son, David, and their home in Huntington Beach during their absence. They plan to be away about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kelley have been enjoying a visit from her cousin, Robert Mosson, of Michigan. He has been dividing his time with relatives at Riverside and here.

The Cypress Women's community club will meet Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Arthur Collins. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. C. E. Swain and Mrs. Len White. The meeting was postponed from last Tuesday, which was election day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, 5701 Vonnie Lane, enjoyed a motor trip Saturday and Sunday to Inyokern and other points of interest on the Mojave desert. Making her debut in automobile travel was the couple's Siamese kitten, who proved to be a good traveler.

Sam Rosen and Clarence Smith spent last week-end in San Francisco. They enjoyed a "flying" trip.

Mrs. Paul Rees, wife of coowner Paul Rees of the R & G Ready-Mix concrete company, is helping in the business office of the firm.

Mrs.Dora Strempel, of Trinidad, Colo., is visiting in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Strempel. She plans to spend the winter in California and will divide her time here and in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Bartley, in Long Beach.

The O. F. Dixon family enjoyed a visit last weekend with his brother and family, the Riley Dixon's, at Avonel. The Dixon family were former residents in that territory.

Your Child
A WEEKLY COLUMN
conducted by Claud C. Ruch
Educational Director, Childcraft Advisory Service in Chicago

Occasionally, you are probably startled to hear a full-grown woman say — and sometimes with considerable pride — "You know, I've never learned how to cook. Why, I can't even boil water!"

This frivolous remark may have prompted you more than once, to resolve that your children will know how to cook by the time they grow up. A constructive resolution, indeed! But, how does one interest the small child in an activity that seems, upon first inspection, to be so very adult?

The answer is: Make cooking fun. Make it a wonderful adventure for your children among the fascinating tools and gadgets of the kitchen.

Irma S. Rombauer and Jane Crawford Torno, co-authors of "The Cook Book for Girls and Boys," tell how this can be done, in their chapter on cooking, in Childcraft books.

Among the easy-to-make recipes they suggest for children are gelatin desserts, because it's a thrill for a child to be able to say, "I made the dessert"; milk shakes, because they are a favorite, healthful, between-meal refreshment for growing boys and girls, and eggnog, because it is a refreshing meal-in-a-glass.

Following, is their recipe for a perennial childhood favorite: Gelatin Lollipops —

Fill jigger glasses or small jar lids with plain liquid gelatin and place in empty freezing tray in refrigerator. After gelatin has thickened, insert a match stick or wooden skewer in center of each mold and freeze until firm. Remove from molds by running a knife around the edges.

YOUR HOME OF TOMORROW

How to get the most out of an odd-shaped corner building lot and still keep within bounds of architectural convention has been demonstrated by a Toledo builder and architect.

Ingenious planning has transformed a lot many would call a liability into an asset and a house with distinctive character. Despite the unusual floor dimensions (below), there is good utilization of space; all living areas are traditional in shape. In addition, the location of the house permits maximum use of the lot.

Private Living

The design stresses privacy of living. The entry door, facing the street, opens into a vestibule serving as a passageway to the living room, the kitchen or the second floor. The arrangement diverts most household traffic away from the rear which is "reserved" for secluded family living.

This seclusion is further insured by the generous use of glass block. Being translucent, not transparent, it permits the ultimate of privacy with no sacrifice of daylight. The "street" wall of the living room serves to illustrate this factor.

This wall is composed solely of a fireplace and a large glass block panel. The latter not only screens out street traffic movement but shields living room activities from the view of passers-by.

Double Duty

Equipped with sliding glass doors, the sun porch is actually an extension of the living room. In fair weather both sets of doors can be pushed back to establish affinity between indoor and outdoor living.

The dining room also is integrated with the living area. It is flanked on one side by a powder room, on the other by the kitchen. Windowless, the area receives daylight from another large glass block panel set in the wall separating the house and garage.

Prisms in the block catch and transmit daylight flowing in windowed garage doors and from two glass block panels in the exterior garage wall. The insulating quality of the block reduces heat loss in winter and also is an aid in deadening noise.

Compact Kitchen

The triangular shape of the kitchen has been utilized to produce a compact step-saving work center. This unusual shape permits a tighter arrangement of service and storage units for greater convenience and efficiency.

The kitchen unit is daylighted by a glass block panel over the stove and by two windows in the breakfast nook. The latter is separated from the work center by a low partition. An outside door is convenient for deliveries and offers access to the garage and an outside garbage receiver.

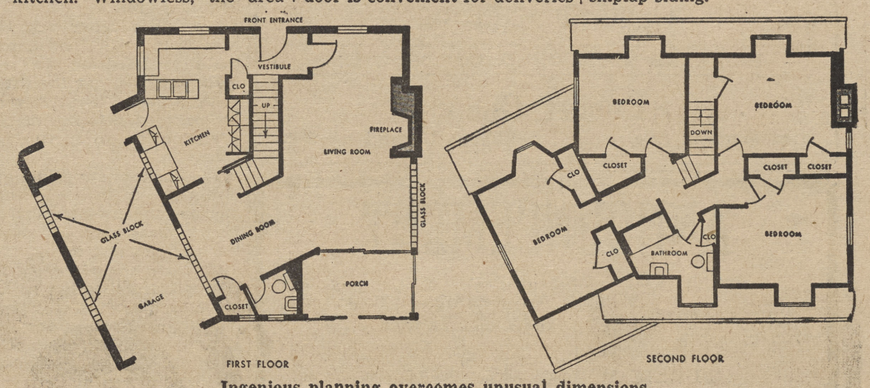
The second floor shows further evidence of careful planning. The four bedrooms, all traditional in form, are of ample dimensions and have commodious closets. Dormer windows are used to augment the spaciousness.

Traffic Center

All bedrooms converge on a corridor system, a traffic center offering access to the bathroom, the stairs and utility closets. The bath, like the kitchen, is triangular in shape but clever arrangement of fixtures has made this an asset. The sharp angle of converging walls has been utilized, and transformed into a small closet for toilet articles.

Exterior walls of the first floor are of cement block with a white stucco wash finish. The second floor is mostly frame construction with an exterior finish of shiplap siding.

This house stresses privacy of living.



Ingenious planning overcomes unusual dimensions.

STAMP OUT CANCER!

Built-ins Win Great Favor With Women

Built-in storage facilities in homes find great favor among women. American Builder, leading building industry magazine, learned that when 3,000 women realtors were asked for suggestions about building a house.

The inquiries resulted in about 1,000 useful ideas. The most valuable ones were incorporated into a house constructed in Tulsa, Okla., by Mrs. R. B. Butler, a professional home builder.

Among the unique built-in features is a modern version of the old-fashioned pantry. This has double doors, with shelves and racks on their inner sides for cooking utensils, condiments, cook books and other kitchen items. The pantry also has built-in bins for vegetables and fruit as well as more conventional shelves and cabinets.

A wide counter, extending the full length of one wall, is an extra convenience in the bathroom. Cupboards and open shelves furnish ample space for medicines, towels and toilet articles.

Bedroom closets were built to ceiling height to provide storage compartments for seasonal clothing, extra blankets and other infrequently used belongings.

PAINT PROBLEM SOLUTION

To paint a stairway which must be used while the paint is drying, first paint every other step. Wait until the paint is dry on these steps before finishing the job. The stairway can always be used by taking two steps at a time.

Care Advised In Selecting Site for Home

The area and shape of a lot should be considered carefully by the prospective home owner who is selecting a site on which to build his house.

A lot can be too large as well as too small. If there is too much land, taking proper care of it will be difficult. Many large properties are unsightly simply because the owner has insufficient time to devote to his lawn and garden.

A lot which is too small, however, will restrict the location and orientation of the dwelling. Zoning ordinances in cities and towns often make a small lot undesirable because they limit the percentage of a lot's area which a house can cover.

Some zoning ordinances also restrict the relationship of a house to property lines. For example, building within 30 feet of the street might be prohibited, thus reducing the usefulness of a shallow lot.

High land costs are the only good reason for buying an extremely narrow lot. A wide lot makes placement of the house easier, adds privacy and permits more attractive landscaping.

Because low-lying land drains poorly, it generally makes a poor house site. Ground should always slope upwards slightly toward the house.
